THE COURSE

The Maine Orthopaedic Review is an 12-day course that starts with 5 ½ days of lectures and 6 ½ days of self-paced, computer-based instruction. All course instruction will take place in an air-conditioned building with modern classrooms.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Colby College is a private, liberal arts college on a beautiful, quiet campus. The quiet, retreat-like setting is ideal for this intensive course. Colby offers housing both in dorms on campus and in a new facility in downtown Waterville (The Main Street Commons), which is located approximately 2 miles from campus. As college residence halls, private rooms do not include private baths. All rooms on campus or in the Commons are assigned on the basis of the date we receive a reservation; therefore, early registration is suggested. Maid service, pillows, linen, blankets and towels are provided in both facilities. Televisions are not provided in either facility, though guests may stream on their personal devices. If you have a disability, please advise us on your registration.

Campus Dorms

There are double and single rooms in the campus dorms. Rooms are modest, yet clean and include a bed, dresser, lamp and fan. Air conditioning is not available in the dorms. Meals are included in the dining hall on campus.

The air-conditioned suites have 4 or 6 private bedrooms with a shared living area, full kitchen and two bathrooms. Parking is available and regular shuttle service is available to transport participants to campus throughout the day. Meals are included in the dining hall on campus.
